From your pastor . . .

Attached to this bulletin is an envelope that I encourage you to use to respond to the appeal made by Father Thomas Ayepa from the Diocese of Moroto in Uganda, African at today's Mass. Next Sunday, a second collection for Father Thomas' appeal will be taken up after Holy Communion. Please return your envelope through that collection. Thank you.

I wish to focus on the meaning of the medallion of the pelican that, as part of the renovation of the nave of the church will appear on the floor at the head of the main aisle, where Holy Communion is distributed. The Pelican is a classic symbol of the Eucharistic Christ and appears in many churches throughout the world including our Diocesan Cathedral, the shrine church of Our Lady of Guadalupe outside of La Crosse and at Saint James Catholic Church in La Crosse where your pastor served for sixteen years before coming here to Saint Mary's in 2011.

The following description comes from the website, TheCatholicSpirit.com and was authored by Father Van Sloun.

“Mother Pelicans lay their eggs in a nest, and after the chicks hatch, the mothers leave the nest to hunt for food, return and feed the chicks. Many birds feed their young with worms. Pelicans usually live near the water, and their prey tend to be small fish, frog tadpoles and crayfish or salamanders.

In times of draught the marshes and streams might dry up, or something might cause the fish in the lake to die, and the mother pelican is unable to find food. Her chicks are delicate, need to be fed daily, and without food are quickly in danger of starvation and death. Faced with this crisis, the mother pelican uses its beak to poke holes in its breast, which causes blood to come out, and the chicks are nourished with their mother's blood. The mother dies and the chicks survive.

Christians see parallels between the mother pelican and her chicks and Jesus and his followers. The mother pelican represents Jesus, the chicks represent us. The chicks dwell in the safety of the nest, believers dwell in the safety of the Church. The mother is the head of the nest, and Jesus is the head of the Church (Eph 1:22). The mother has an intense concern for her chicks and it goes against her nature to allow any of them to perish, and Jesus has a great love for us and wants none of us to perish.

When food is in short supply, the pelican pierces its breast with its sharp, pointed beak, and the side of Jesus was pierced by a sharp, pointed lance (Jn 19:34a). Blood flows from the pelican's breast, and blood flowed from Jesus' side (Jn 6:56b) The mother's blood is drink for her chicks, and the blood of Jesus is 'true drink' (Jn 6:55b). The mother gives her life that her chicks might live, and Jesus laid down his life that we might live (Jn 15:13). The mother's blood saves the lives of the chicks, and the blood of Jesus is salvation and eternal life (Jn 6:54) for those who receive it. Because of these striking similarities, the mother pelican, and her chicks have come to represent the Eucharist, as well as redemption and salvation.”

In other accounts of the pelican symbol, it is mentioned that after the mother pelican dies in the nest with her flesh exposed, the chicks will peck and eat the very flesh of their mother, giving them more nourishment and strength to survive. This corresponds to Christ words, “whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him, Jn 6:56).

I hope the above account of this symbol helps you to appreciate what will soon (God willing) grace our main aisle leading to the reception of our Lord in Holy Communion.

Until I write again, may God bless you and all the parishioners of Saint Mary's Parish.

Monsignor Roger J. Scheckel
